

WHIRLYBIRD AT WORK—Using a helicopter is faster and easier than employing a crane to raise a radio mast and antenna on the roof of a building, it is claimed. Certainly the work progressed rapidly enough at the Moss Equipment Co. building at New Lenox. A 70-foot steel mast, topped with a 10-foot antenna, has been erected on the roof of the Moss building to serve in transmitting messages on a 2-way radio hook up installed to improve customer service. Moss Equipment handles farm machinery. By using radio the company can relay messages to service crews in the field and vice versa. Right now the only set has been installed in a station wagon. If it proves satisfactory service trucks will be equipped. The mast was assembled on the roof of the building and then lifted into position by cable attached to the helicopter. Workers then anchored the mast into place. The mast weighed approximately 900 pounds. (Marvin Smith photo)

Plan Commissions

Frankfort Body Explains Aims

A letter setting forth the aims of the Frankfort plan commission relative to creation of a land use map covering the Frankfort-Mokena area, has been dispatched by the group over the signature of the chairman, Burton E. Breidert to various county bodies and officials. Copies of the letter have been sent to Meade Baltz, chairman of the Will county board of supervisors; Ben Hur Wilson, chairman of the county zoning board of appeals, Frankfort Supervisor William Kampe; Ralph Newkirk, county zoning enforcing officer and the state department of registration and education. The last named body was included because it receives inquiries from manufacturing and industrial firms relative to potential sites in Illinois.

An identical letter has been sent to the same persons and agencies by the Mokena plan commission.

Both commissions, Mr. Breidert stated, have adopted the same policies and will work together closely to prevent any overlapping of effort. The letter dispatched by Mr. Breidert follows: "We would like to advise that the village of Frankfort has created a village plan commission which has been an officially organized body for almost a year and desire to take full advantage of the Illinois statutes as to control of subdivision, building and zoning, etc. within an area of one and one-half miles from the village limits.

"As required by law, to secure the above controls, we have employed Educational and Technical Consultants, Inc., Evanston, who are professional planning engineers, to promptly start preparation of a land-use map and make suggestions as to subdivision, building and zoning codes, etc. It is anticipated that these studies and technical preparations will be fully completed within four months. We shall file such land-use map and other data with your office when complete and also with the state of Illinois to avoid possibility of misunderstandings. "Since the control area of Frankfort and Mokena will overlap in places and since it is advantageous to both villages, we are making a joint effort as to the planning and the same engineering firm has been employed to do the work simultaneously. We have been informed that the joining together of two villages in a regional plan, is unique in the state of Illinois. The need was obvious and we have found that we can work together very comfortably with profit to both villages, to secure the greatest good for the greatest number.

We will, naturally, want to work closely with your office as a matter of amity and good business."

Sandburg Board Sees High School Population of 6,500 in 15 Years

(Editor's Note: The following story is designed to acquaint readers with the four year history of Carl Sandburg high school and the problems to be faced in the near future.)

By RANDY JOHNSON

Carl Sandburg high school, serving Palos and Orland townships, has had an enrollment increase of 121 percent since opening in 1954.

The original building located at 133rd and La Grange rd. housed 525 students during the first year of operation. One year later the building was filled to near capacity with 700 students.

Responding to the challenge to increase the capacity of the facilities, voters of District No. 230 approved bonds totaling $980,000. The referendum of November 1955 paved the way for increasing the capacity of Carl Sandburg high school to 1,500.

When registration was completed this fall, nearly 1,200 students were housed in adequate facilities under the supervision of a fine staff of 58 members.

With a 121 percent enrollment increase the cost of educating a student at Carl Sandburg has increased only seven percent. The costs of building and maintenance have risen sharply but the tax rate has increased only 13 percent. In 1954 citizens of District No. 230 were assessed $1.23 per hundred dollars valuation; the 1955 rate was $1.39.

Growth within the district over the past four years is evidenced by the 76 percent rise in assessed valuation — from 25 to 45 million.

The board of education has recently completed a long-range study of the growth of District No. 230. According to detailed figures, it is expected that growth in Palos township will continue at about the same rate established during the past five years. However, such is not the case in Orland township where a virtual "population explosion" is anticipated.

In light of the board survey, within the next 15 years about 6,500 students will be in the high schools of the district.

"Our present building now has a capacity of 1,500 students. Based upon present grade school enrollments, the high school population in the fall of 1960 is expected to far surpass this figure," according to Superintendent W. O. Fisher.

An average of 200 additional students is expected each year until 1962. This growth in the immediate future can be charted accurately. What the more distant future holds is more speculative, but one thing is certain—Carl Sandburg high school is destined to have companion schools to serve one of the fastest growing suburban areas in northern Illinois.

GOP CARRIES WILL COUNTY

Proclaim Nov. 9
CROP Sunday
In Will County

Next Sunday, Nov. 9, has been proclaimed CROP Sunday in Will county. Pastors in all denominations will participate and explain the Christian Rural Overseas Program and its campaign to their congregations.

CROP County Chairman Al-den Hickman of Joliet said that volunteers have been enlisted to canvass the entire county in a single day. Monday, Nov. 10, CROP Day, the canvassers will go from farm to farm with their trucks collecting corn and soybeans or cash in lieu of commodities. Enough volunteers are being sought to call at every Will county farm on the 10th and provide an opportunity for all to share in this united overseas relief effort.

Numerous central collecting points will be established thruout the county to receive commodities from the canvassers. When the canvasser's truck is filled with contributions of grain he will drive to the nearest collection point, unload and return to finish canvassing his assigned area.

Grain elevators which will cooperate in receiving CROP commodities include Andres Grain, Frankfort Grain, Joliet Grain at Byrds Bridge, Manhattan Grain, New Lenox Grain, Plainfield Grain and Tyler Grain at Elwood.

A goal of 5,000 bushels has been set for Will county by the County CROP Board. As soon as all reports are in the grain will be concentrated at one or two elevators and shipped for processing before being sent overseas. Two cars of corn were shipped from Will county last year. The county board is confident three cars will be shipped in 1958.

CROP food gifts are distributed through Church World Service, the overseas relief agency of the National Council of Churches. Any donor wishing to direct his contribution to be distributed thru a particular denominational agency is invited to specify the agency when he makes his contribution.

Hey! Mr. Diogenes! Shine Your Lantern This Way Please

In these days when the angle and the fast buck appear to be the main goal of so many the action of a Cedar Rapids, Iowa man brings a pleasant lift.

Eugene W. Hunt, who runs the Conoco station on U. S. 30 at Lincolnwood, near New Lenox, has had divers persons attempt divers methods to supply their cars with oil and gas without expense to themselves.

Therefore, it was with considerable amazement that he opened a letter this week and found two five cent pieces attached to the single sheet of stationery, which also carried a brief note.

The signature at the bottom was Dr. Thomas F. Suchomel, who gave his residence at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

"On Sept. 18, 1953," the note read, "I purchased gas at your station and walked off without paying for a coke. Am enclosing 10c for same."

Mr. Hunt is considering framing the note and nickels, and display them as an example. Right now he just has the paper and nickels pinned to the wall. But he realizes this is hazardous. Someone is likely to take the nickels. They may leave the note, however.

Doerfler, Knater, 5 Incumbents Victors; Mason, O'Neill Win

While Democrats were slipping up Republican territory in various sections of the country Tuesday, Will county voters upheld the GOP cause as usual and the entire Republican ticket carried.

Gilbert Knater, former resident of Frankfort, was elected sheriff to succeed Roy Doerfler, who was elected county treasurer to replace Floyd Krapf, of Green Garden. Treasurers and sheriffs cannot succeed themselves under Illinois law.

The other Republicans elected were all incumbents. County Judge John Cowing, Probate Judge Stewart C. Hutchison, County Clerk Joseph Hartley, Probate Clerk E. B. Workman and Co. School Supt. Verne E. Crackel were all returned to office. Hartley will be starting his sixth term.

With the exception of Crackel, whose term begins next August, the others elected will begin their terms of office on Dec. 1, the first Monday of that month.

Crackel, who was without opposition, led the ticket with 30,529 votes, according to the unofficial canvass. Doerfler topped the candidates with opposition with a total of 28,811 votes compared to 19,903 for his opponent, Paul Hileman.

The other totals were as follows:

Sheriff
Knater	28,571
John Long	20,391
County Judge
Cowing	27,700
Raymond Harvey	20,864
Probate Judge
Hutchison	27,247
Robert Buchar	21,063
County Clerk
Hartley	27,826
Leo Meehan	20,831
Probate Clerk
Workman	27,507
John Pfeiffer	20,469

Congressman Noah M. Mason of Oglesby, had a narrow escape but succeeded in getting reelected, altho his margin of victory was the smallest he has had, 5,581 in the six counties comprising the 15th district. His opponent, Margaret O'Brien, of Dekalb, trained nurse, WW II veteran and farmer, had the support of organized labor. Mason's total in the district was 58,490 as compared to 52,909 for O'Brien. In Will county Mason had 24,644 and O'Brien 24,216.

State Senator Lotie Holman O'Neill was reelected with some 20,000 votes to spare. She took her Democrat opponent, Hayes Beall, of DuPage county, in both counties, 26,962 to 21,323 in Will, and 51,076 to 36,012 in DuPage.

Nazarene Pastor Elected Area Vice President of Youth Society

Rev. Dallas D. Mucci, pastor of the Tinley Park Church of the Nazarene, was elected the Chicago Central District vice-president of the Nazarene Young People's Society, international youth organization of the church on Saturday, Nov. 1 at Kankakee. Rev. Mucci will assume his duties immediately.

Rev. Dallas D. Mucci

This does not mean that the Tinley Park pastor will be required to resign the leadership of his local parish, but will maintain this office in addition to the local effort.

The Chicago Central District of the Church of the Nazarene includes about 65 churches in the vicinity of Chicago, Kankakee-Joliet and Danville. For this group Rev. Mucci will be expected to help direct the ambitious youth effort undertaken and underwritten by them.

His duties will involve a part in the direction of four summer youth camps at the District Center in Aroma Park, direction of the district basketball tournament to be held at Olivet Nazarene College in Bourbonnais, in April. He becomes a member of the executive committee that decides much policy for each of the 65 local chapters of this society.

Rev. Mucci has served with care the zone presidency of the south Chicago Zone for the past year and one-half. He has also been active in community youth activities—presently vice-president of the Tinley Park Church League.

His interest in youth was further demonstrated by the speech, "Delinquency: Sickness or Sin", delivered at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last winter.

Rev. Mucci's only comment was, "I feel greatly honored by my fellow ministers faith in me. However, I'm no expert, no dynamic leader of leaders, but I shall make an effort to serve my God and my Church in this capacity."

Tinley Man Attends Science Meeting At New York City

John J. Hartig, of 6507 W. 167th st., Tinley Park, was one of the more than a score of scientists from the Argonne National Laboratory who participated in the exchange of information at scientific meetings thruout the country last month.

There were five divisions of the laboratory represented at these meetings. Mr. Hartig is of the industrial hygiene and safety division. Two of his colleagues presented papers at a meeting in Chicago. Hartig and two others, Gerald T. Lonergan, of Plainfield, and Charles L. Cheever, La Grange Park, went to New York.

There Hartig attended a meeting of the subcommittee on radiation safety standards for nuclear reactors. The other two were present at a symposium on health protection criteria for uranium processing.

Julius Monek, New Lenox, Dies

Funeral services were held last Friday, Oct. 31, for Julius Monek, 73, late of 832 S. Cedar rd., New Lenox. Mr. Monek died on Tuesday of last week, following a sudden illness.

A native of Hungary, he came to the United States as a young man. He lived in Chicago for many years before coming to New Lenox in 1943. He was retired.

Besides his wife, Johanna, Mr. Monek is survived by one son, Francis H., who resides at Lake Forest; one sister, Mrs. Henry Munz of Chicago, and 10 grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted from the Baskerville chapel, Lincoln highway at Robert street, at 9:30 o'clock to St. Jude's church at 10. Interment was in St. Mary cemetery, Evergreen Park.

Vote Heavier In Will County Than Expected

A total vote of 50,211 was cast in Will county in Tuesday's election, according to the unofficial returns released from the office of County Clerk Joseph H. Hartley. The official canvass was begun yesterday and the figures that will go into the record books should be ready late today or tomorrow.

The total vote was much heavier than anticipated by political observers. They believed the total would run between 40 and 45,000.

Of the 50,211 votes cast 20,285 are classified as straight Republican and 15,281 as straight Democrats. There were 14,686 split ballots.

Three of the five proposals submitted to the voters at this election carried in Will county, the two bond issues, one for state institutions and the other for a bonus for Korean War veterans who served from Illinois, and the change in the state banking law.

While the two proposed constitutional amendments appearing on the blue ballot received more "yes" votes than "no", they failed to have the necessary two thirds of the vote cast on them and so should be ruled as having lost. Apparently they suffered a like fate in the state as a whole. Fate of the bond issues is uncertain in the state. The Banking law change was approved.

The Will county vote on the small ballots:

Judicial Reform:	Yes	22,138
	No	13,015
Right for county treasurers, sheriffs to succeed themselves:	Yes	18,516
	No	17,005
Bonds for hospitals etc.:	Yes	19,127
	No	18,450
Bonds for Korean War bonus:	Yes	21,019
	No	18,516
Amending banking law:	Yes	14,211
	No	6,032

FILLING NEED—The recently completed addition to the Orland Park grade school is the solution to a problem that was becoming quite pressing. The original school, which once also housed the Orland Park high school, was straining somewhat at the seams. Like all communities in the southwest area, Orland Park is growing and the people coming there to make their homes are young for the most part, and have children of school age. An addition to the school became a "must," and the grade school board took steps to remedy the situation. How long this will serve to meet the needs is problematical. It's not safe any more to predict how long it takes to fill a school. They grow so fast! (Marvin Smith photo)

Phone Company Lays New Cable At New Lenox

The noise of air hammers and digging machines which were working on the telephone cable project along Cedar road stopped on Monday, Nov. 3. The laying of conduit for telephone cable and replacing of streets, sidewalks and parkways has been completed.

Over 5000 feet of trench was dug into which over 25,000 feet of conduit was placed. Six new manholes were constructed along the route, too. This is part of the telephone expansion program in New Lenox to expand service facilities in the north part of town.

Now the job of threading cable thru the buried ducts will begin. If you've ever pulled the cord from the south half of your pajamas—then tried to rethread it back thru that long, long tunnel of waistband, you have a pretty good idea of what's involved.

About a mile of heavy telephone cable will be pulled thru the underground conduit. Connected with this will be about 10,000 feet of aerial cable.

Wm. G. O'Malley, supervising construction foreman for Illinois Bell, feels with the rest of the local telephone team that these cable projects are important to everyone in the New Lenox area—today and tomorrow.

"Telephones go where people go," said O'Malley, "and a lot of people are moving into the area around New Lenox. In addition the telephone gets a lot more use by more families today."

"To provide telephone service when and where it's needed, we have to do more than put telephones in homes. We have thousands of miles of wire-in-cable to put underground, and many more thousands of connections to splice. And all these circuits have to be connected to equipment in the central office buildings to allow these subscribers to reach the millions of telephones all over the world."

According to O'Malley the cable now being installed here will not only relieve calling pressure on existing circuits, but will provide additional channels for future telephone needs.

No License for Package Store At This Time

While no formal action was taken by the Mokena village board on the request of Ervin Friant and James Horras for a license to operate a package liquor store in Friant's new building on Wolf road, Mayor James Marti said Tuesday night that he had conferred with the trustees and the feeling at this time was against issuance of such a license.

The mayor's announcement was made at the regular board meeting at which Richard Muehler, a front street tavern operator, had appeared to voice objections to the licensing of a package store. Muehler said that he did not believe such an establishment was necessary to meet the needs of the community. Friant and Horras appeared before the board several weeks ago to ask for a license.

The board spent some time in discussing its ordinance to license automatic amusement machines. The question is what form to use for the license so that it may be transferred in case the machine becomes disabled and is replaced by a new one that is identical. No definite conclusions were reached.

The board granted permission to parents supporting Trinity school to hold a fund drive. Trinity school is used for retarded children and no tax funds are available for the purpose. It must be supported entirely by contributions.

Robert Hamilton, village engineer, reported to the board that all the lateral sewers are in place and that 95% of the contract awarded to Blaine Saxton for installation of the system has been completed. The Lindblad Construction Co. which is building the sewage treatment plant, has 56% of the work finished. All of the concrete work is completed, the board was informed.

A request by LeRoy Harling that a buffalo box be moved from the middle of his driveway, was granted. The work will be done by the village.

It was also announced at the board meeting that the sessions of the Mokena plan commission, which are held at the village hall, are open to the public.

A total of $32.20 in building permit fees was paid in to the village treasury. The permits represent remodeling jobs on seven homes.

Will Show Film At Frankfort To Aid Band

In order to provide funds for additional band uniforms, the Frankfort Band Booster organization will sponsor a colored movie Nov. 14 in the Frankfort school gym.

The movie entitled "African Safari" will be shown by Emil Ratajick of Oak Lawn and will start at 8 p. m.

The Frankfort grade school band, which has been in operation for several years, is showing marked improvement and good ability and it is desired that every member of the band has a uniform.

Seventh and eighth grade band students are selling tickets and making a door to door canvass in Frankfort. If anyone has not been contacted, they may call Frankfort 3041.

This movie is very interesting according to those who have seen it. Mr. Ratajick in company with several other Oak Lawn business men, recently made the trip to Africa themselves and these are pictures which Mr. Ratajick took. It is very interesting to hear him tell of the locality in Africa and of their trip. The admission price is very reasonable and it is hoped that many will attend.

"A Diller, A Dollar..."

SUMMER'S END and the start of another school year is a time of mixed emotions for youngsters. Caught in these photos are two quite different yet typical reactions. An "old hand" at cracking the books (left) frowns dejectedly. To him, school is only a confinement. To the tota receiving last minute instructions from mother (below), however, school is an awesome adventure—their first "away from home."

WHETHER THEY ARE happy about school or not, if you drive you have a responsibility to see children arrive there safely. Watch for signs like this one. Slow down as you approach, ready to stop.

STAY ALERT DRIVING near school buses. Be prepared to stop quickly. More buses like this International are taking to the road now, because more children are attending school than before.

Lincoln-Way Conquers Mustangs 20-13

Knights Confound Experts With Victory in Season's Final Tilt; L-W Frosh-Sophs Win 26 to 18

By BILL SLUIS

The Lincoln-Way varsity football team was a first and last club this season. It won its first game of the year, a non-conference affair, against Lemont and the season's finale, a Southwest Suburban conference tilt, against Evergreen Park. The L-W frosh-soph made the afternoon complete by taking the curtain-raiser 26 to 18.

There were six losses in between but Coach Jonas Lashmet's charges played good ball and with a break or two some of the losses could have been wins.

The Mustangs had been favored to win last Saturday but when the final whistle sounded Lincoln-Way was on top of a 20 to 13 score.

The Knights jumped off to a 6-0 first quarter lead as they marched 81 yards to the goal. Clicking for an average of about seven yards per play, the Knight offense sent the Evergreen boys reeling. The highlight of the quarter was a 29 yard pass from quarterback Bob Hughes to right end Jim Gast, which put the ball first down on the Evergreen one yard line. Bob Hughes scored from there on a quarterback sneak. Dan Fenn tried to run the conversion, but was stopped just short of goal. On offense the Mustangs also did well, but the Lincoln-Way crew was stronger and held them scoreless.

The Knights began their second quarter barrage with another march. On seven plays they charged 54 yards for an average of nearly eight yards per play. They were on the 28 yard line when a hand-off eluded Jerry Haehnlein. John Jenner, of the Mustangs picked it up and ran 63 yards for a touchdown. Jenner then proceeded to try the conversion, but his kick missed.

The Mustangs scored their first touchdown on a four yard pass to Dick Whittington, with Jenner converting. The touchdown came after a 55-yard march.

The Knights tied the score by marching 60 yards on eight plays. Bob Hughes scored the touchdown, with Dan Fenn running the conversion. At half time the score was 13 all.

Neither side scored in the third period. Lincoln-Way's leading ground-gainer in this quarter was halfback Howie Mann. The Knights wrapped things up in the fourth quarter when they marched 72 yards to the goal. Accomplishing the feat in fifteen plays. Highlight of the march was an eleven yard run up the middle by fullback Jerry Haehnlein. The winning touchdown was scored by Howie Mann when he fought his way five yards around left end. He was slightly shaken up on the play, but was okay later. Dan Fenn ran the conversion, which made the score 20-13, Knights. The Mustangs tried a last-ditch march, but it was broken up when Hogan Lau intercepted a pass on the ten-yard line. The remainder of the time was

Sandburg Youth Runs in State Harrier Meet

Reed Williams, captain of the Carl Sandburg high school cross-country team added an 18th place finish in the Illinois state high school finals at Champaign last week-end. Coach John Wilson's harriers were undefeated in dual meets over the season and added the conference title to spell out one of the most successful seasons in the school's history.

Williams turned in his best time of the year for 1.9 miles, being clocked at 9:38 over the hill and dale course at Champaign.

Reed was the first place finisher among Southwest Suburban runners in the conference meet and then finished third in the district meet two weeks ago for the right to enter the state finals.

Methodist-St. George Win Opening Games

The Methodist opened the defense of its Tinley Park church league basketball crown with a convincing 59-26 win over Trinity Lutheran Tuesday night. St. George broke open a rather close game in the third quarter, and went on to level the Nazarene, 55-32.

An exciting season is expected as the league appears much stronger this year.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

In this country, we accept the sale and purchase of autos, appliances, etc. on time payment plans, as normal in most merchandising. Also, we have a number of large small loan firms and most banks now have departments catering to time payment and small loan business. It is a very lucrative field for these firms.

In a few countries, notably Scandinavia and West Germany, time payment sales are now an accepted practice although not nearly as general as in the USA.

English banks have been entering this field slowly, but have noted the profits generated by some of the English firms that have been buying time payment contracts from retailers and are now entering this field in a concerted manner. Interest rates there on some of this type of paper reaches as high as 25 per cent on money actually employed in this field.

Slowness to enter this field may be explained by the fact that in European countries, there are a few large banks with branches covering the country and managed, as to policies, by the main office. In this country we have many thousands of banks, independently owned and managed. It is a highly competitive field. A successful bank is one which can loan its funds to best advantage and at minimum risk. However, a bank which never has any credit losses, is likely a bank that is not very aggressive in "selling" loans.

Its earnings for stockholders is likely less than the more aggressively managed bank. However, bank directors also put a definite ceiling on losses (percentage wise) and a floor on percentage losses. The directors demand that management shall not go above the percentage as to losses nor below the floor percentage. If the losses are too small, the management is not working hard enough on getting the most profitable loans and if losses are too great, they are being careless.

Modern bank management is hard work as these percentage barriers immediately tell the directors a great deal about their management. An axiom of the banking world is—loans create deposits! Those investors who buy bank stocks primarily, examine these figures closely.

The future for young, ambitious men and women in the banking field, is attractive. Universities are giving better courses in this field. The rewards for the successful are considerable.

Two weeks ago the U. S. News and World Report had a leading article titled "What Americans Can Do Without Cash" and the November 1, 1958 issue of Forbes magazine has as its lead article one titled, "Around the World in 80 Ways."

Both of these articles the new and highly profitable "Credit Card" field. The two firms seemingly now to dominate are Diner's Club and American Express. Diner's club has been in the field for some

Vandals Rip Up, Burn Benches At Shelter House in Woodlands

By MRS. ELIZABETH B. ANDERSON
Lockport 886V2

Sometime between Sunday evening and Monday morning, vandals attacked the shelter-house at the Woodlands, ripping up some benches which they burned in the fire place. The shelter house is a new one which was rebuilt to replace the one destroyed by vandals in the summer of 1957. The Preserve committee reports that there is not enough money in their budget to allow for such depredations.

The Missionary society met Thursday in the home of Mrs. John Hollister with Mrs. Geo. Ott assisting. It was erroneously reported to be held at the church. Mrs. John Loucks presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert Shepherd, who is recuperating from a recent fall.

Reports were given of the fall festival and plans were made to serve a turkey dinner to a group of Joliet men and their wives at Homer church Nov. 11. The devotional program was given by Mrs. George Burcham, Mrs. Ralph Waldvogel and Mrs. Ira Anderson. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Harold Drewes in Lockport Nov. 20, one week early to avoid conflicting with Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Roy Hanson and Mrs. John Hollister attended a meeting Wednesday of the Women of Central association at the Rosemore church in Chicago. The Rev. and Mrs. Hanson were guests at a meeting of Aurora Association ministers and wives, at Lockport Congregational church.

The Pilgrim Fellowship sponsored a Hallowe'en party Saturday evening, beginning with a hay rack ride and followed by refreshments and fun in the church dining room which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Young people from Rosemore church with their pastor, Dr. Byron Reynolds, were guests.

Taking advantage of the school holiday last Monday, Mrs. Otto Moravec and children, Mrs. Russell Schaeke and daughter and Carolyn Drewes of Lockport, ate picnic dinner in the Forest Preserve.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hanson had as guests last Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin of Chicago, and the Rev. and Mrs. Dick Lessner of Amboy. Mr. Martin is a visiting lecturer at Chicago Theological seminary and Mr. Lessner was recently ordained as pastor of the Amboy Congregational church.

Flu victims during the past week were Mrs. Reed Burch, Mike Aspel and Gene Anderson.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Frances Bridges at Tucson, Ariz. Oct. 27. She had been ailing for some time. Mrs. Bridges, who lived on Bruce road, where the Cobb family now reside, moved to Tucson in 1945. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Clarence Cutler of Joliet, Mrs. John Weatherholt of Baton Rouge, La. and Mrs. Wm. Russell of Tucson, two sons Herdes and Francis Thompson also of Tucson, and five grand children, five sisters and one brother. Burial was in Tucson.

Mrs. Anna Whorral, mother of Mrs. Stewart Vanderbilt of Peotone, is a patient in Silver Cross hospital, where she was taken Wednesday with a broken hip. Mrs. Whorral is well known to many Homer folk, having lived with the Vanderbilts when they made their home here.

Mrs. Iola Storm and Mrs. E. A. Cary attended the county convention of King's Daughters last Thursday at Westminster Presbyterian church in Joliet. Mrs. Cary was in charge of the memorial service for all county members who died during the past year, and Mrs. Storm gave the report of the Wayside Workers' circle of which she is president.

Two cars, one driven by Mrs. Theodore Grimm of S. Parker rd., the other by Ralph Ingersoll, Forest Preserve caretaker, collided at the south entrance to Messenger Woodlands on Bruce rd. Sunday morning, Oct. 26. Ralph was leaving the park and Mrs. Grimm was enroute to Sunday school with several children in the car. No one was seriously injured, but both cars were badly damaged.

Sandburg Frosh-Sophs Cop Grid Title by 19-6 Win Over Bremen —Varsity Finishes in 4th Place

The Sandburg frosh-soph football team won the South west Suburban conference title in that division by whipping Bremen last Saturday afternoon 19 to 6 in the final game of the season.

The frosh-soph outfit from the Orland Park school went thru the season undefeated and this fact should be given respectful attention thru the rest of the circuit in thinking about next year.

The Sandburg troupe has some nice talent that will be ready for varsity competition in 1959.

The Sandburg varsity this year finished in fourth place in the conference standings but could have made a much better showing with a couple of breaks. The Eagles lost some heartbreakers by close scores that could have gone their way.

In their final game of the season the Eagles lost to second place Bremen, 19 to 7. Had Reavis lost the Eagles and the Rams would have tied for third. Evergreen Park had been in the picture for that spot in the standings but Lincoln-Way rose up and walloped the Mustangs, dropping them into fifth place.

Bremen had too much power for the invading Eagles with a major portion of same supplied by Dennis Tattum, who is picked as one of the best prep fullbacks to be seen in many a day. Some 2,100 customers turned out for the last game of the season and Mr. Tattum gave them quite a show.

A senior, Denny, climaxed a wonderful season with a gain of 151 yards in 29 carries for a total of 805 blooming yards for the year, thus surpassing the previous single season rushing mark of 685 yards set by George Stelmach.

The first quarter ended without a score. In the second period Tattum fielded a pass on his 35 and got to the Eagles 37 before he was pulled down. The Tinley Park lad then zoomed thru the right side for 35 yards and Richie Nelson dove over from the two. Denny converted.

The Eagles countered with a thrust that reached paydirt a few minutes later. Jerry Hosier flung a 48-yard pass to Phil Yurtis and then picked up 10 himself. That brought the ball down to the one from where Jim Voss went over. Tom Mrozek's kick was good for the extra point to make the count 7-all.

On the succeeding kickoff Tattum took the ball on his 30 and behind some beautiful blocks by Gifford, Dohkowsky, Hoffman and Cunningham, he picked his way for 70 yards and a touchdown. Ed Mayes try for the extra point failed and it was 13 to 7.

Sandburg threatened to tie it up at the beginning of the fourth quarter. Voss got away on some good jaunts but the Eagles lost the ball on the 14 when a pass was snared by Jack Bauer for Bremen. The Braves set off then on an 88-yard trek and in 18 plays had reached the end zone. Nelson managed some sprints of 9, 10 and 15 yards and John Mannaioni netted 13 on a pass from his brother Jim. Tattum yards, driving over two deluged the ball the last eight fenders.

The Braves made 17 first downs to 10 for Sandburg. Total yardage gained figured 304 for Bremen of which 282 was made by rushing and 181 for Sandburg of which 96 was by rushing.

Couple Wed at Buddhist Rites

At 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 26, Miss Frances Sayako Kurima, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tadashi Kurima of Green Garden was united in marriage to Paul T. Arakawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Yoshio Arakawa, of San Diego, Calif. Rev. Gyonmai Kubose officiated the double ring ceremony in the Chicago Buddhist church, Chicago. The altar was decorated with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and palms. Traditional wedding selections were played throughout the wedding by organist, Miss Joyce Scheer of Monee.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full long white taffeta dress with a chapel train which was made into a bustle for the reception. The scooped neckline was scalloped with tiny appliques of net and a fitted bodice. There were three rose appliques in the front and the sides of the skirt and an extra large rose applique inserted on her chapel train. The long sleeves were tapered to a point at the wrists. Her necklace, a tiny gold heart, given to her by her uncle as a child was the bride's only jewelry. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of Stephanotis and Amazon lilies backgrounded by a silver fan, belonging to the bride's mother. The bride's fingertip veil was held by a crown tiara.

The maid of honor, Miss

Jean Kurima, sister of the bride, wore a coralberry taffeta street length dress with an empire waist in princess lines with a double back panel and a Sabrina velvet bodice and matching shoes. The bridesmaids, Miss Kiyoko Nozawa of Chicago, Mrs. Marlene Huckins of Joliet, formerly of Monee, and Mrs. Carol Koch of Peotone, wore identical dresses and shoes as the maid of honor. The flower girl, Miss Teresa Kimura of Morton Grove, wore an identical gown of coralberry and carried a basket of arranged roses and Fuji mums and a headpiece of the same flowers. The maid of honor carried a white velvet muff and white hat, the bridesmaids carried coralberry velvet muffs and matching hats and received a star rock crystal necklace, all of which were gifts of the bride. The flower girl received a miniature star rock crystal necklace, gift of the bride.

The best man was Eddie Nozawa of Chicago and ushers were Ray Morishita of Chicago, Walter Kurima, brother of the bride, and Karl Nakamura of Chicago.

Immediately following the wedding a dinner was held in the church community hall where approximately 200 people were seated. Toast to the bride and groom was given by the best man. The master of ceremony, Tad Kimura of Morton Grove, introduced the new Mr. and Mrs. Arakawa. A program was scheduled all through the reception. Mrs. Jim Wada was in charge of the complete reception. Mrs. Ruth Offermann and Mrs. Arlene Krabbe served the bridal table. Other servers were Mrs. Betty Schuler, Miss Joyce Yamamoto, Mrs. Tad Kimura, Mrs. Mary Hirata, Mrs. Oda, Mrs. Nozawa, Mrs. Irvin Burmeister, and Mrs. Harold Scheer.

The new Mrs. Arakawa was wearing a red sheath dress, black hat and accessories and an orchid corsage, as she departed on her honeymoon. They will be honeymooning in the Southern states.

The bride is a graduate of Peotone Community high school, and was employed by the Caterpillar Tractor company, Joliet. The groom is employed by the U. S. Post Office in Chicago.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kimura wore a beige crystal satin sheath dress with a back panel and a scooped neckline and beige accessories, and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Arakawa, who came from San Diego, Calif. for her son's wedding, wore a light blue chanel-style lace dress and beige accessories and an orchid corsage, identical to the bride's mother.

given the bride-to-be upon her arrival. Games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Earl Christiansen, Mrs. Orval Schroeder, Mrs. Harry Waldhauser and Mrs. Connard Haakinson. Duplicate prizes were given the bride-to-be.

The table upon which the many lovely gifts were placed was decorated in the bride's chosen colors of green and white and was centered with a miniature doll bridal party. Luncheon was served at

Ingalls Memorial Reports 186 Babies Born in October

How many babies are born, how many patients are hospitalized, how many emergency room cases are treated, are just a few of the many statistics which are recorded daily at Ingalls Memorial hospital, Harvey. The numbers themselves have little meaning until they are thought about as the people which they represent.

Last month there were 186 babies born at Ingalls Memorial, which, by coincidence, is the exact number of babies born last September in the hospital. There were 219 people who received emergency room care—just one more than availed themselves of this hospital service last September. There were 799 people hospitalized last month, and the total days of hospital care exceeded by several hundred the days of hospital care given a year ago last September.

(CNS) — The county board has agreed to keep the village of Posen informed of any moves to vacate any streets or rights-of-way in the area where a portion of 149th st. is traversed by the Northern Illinois tollroad.

The area is just outside the village's corporate limits and is where the village is planning the construction of a sewer and water main in the near future, according to a village board communication to the county commissioners.

The commissioners informed the county map department of Posen's objections to street vacations. The map department was instructed to notify the county board if and when applications to vacate streets or rights-of-way in the section involved are filed.

Haven School Band Boosters Sponsoring "Fun Night" Nov. 15

By DELORES ANDERSON
New Lenox 3651

The Haven school Band Boosters will sponsor a "Fun Night" frolic Saturday night Nov. 15 in the Haven school auditorium. The public is invited to attend. There will be games, food, entertainment for all ages, thruout the evening.

Michael Brueggeman is chairman assisted by Roy Pfeiffer, Bill Knowles, Mrs. Arlene Baughn and Roy Fitzer. Members of the Band Boosters are selling Christmas cards, and members of the band are selling boxes of candy. Money earned from these sales will help defray expenses of the band.

Those who have not visited the New Lenox library are especially invited to do so this week, during "Book Week." Librarian Mrs. Laura Morris and assistant librarian, Mrs. Algot Peterson are hoping people will drop in for the occasion. New 1958 publications such as "Last Train From Atlanta," "Aku Aku," "After the Glory," and "A Wedding in the Family," as well as 50 other new books were purchased especially for Book Week. The library will be open Friday from 2 to 5:30 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All that is necessary to obtain a membership card at this library, is to live in New Lenox township.

The Royal Neighbors will meet at the home of Mrs. Edith Sayers, 120 Elm st., at one o'clock Nov. 12. Mrs. Mary Marshall will be co-hostess.

Twenty members and nine guests attended the Home Bureau meeting recently at the home of Miss Caroline Bentley. Mrs. Betty Shinn, home advisor, gave the major lesson on "Blood, a Major Life Saving Weapon." The next meeting will be Nov. 20 with a dinner. Place to be announced later.

The New Lenox Garden club will meet today in the home of Mrs. Ray Reiter on North Cedar road. Mrs. Albert Schmuhl, and Mrs. John Gill cohostesses, will assist Mrs. Reiter in the serving of dessert coffee at 1:30. The program will be about adventures in nature photography, given by A. J. Reuss of Blue Island.

DAY OF RE-CONSECRATION

To the pioneer settlers of America, there was no final conquest. Simply to have accomplished one bounteous harvest was only a good beginning. They remembered to set apart a special day in thanksgiving to the Almighty God for His abundant goodness.

Proclaiming a day of Thanksgiving has become an annual tradition to which all America has fallen heir.

One of mankind's oldest traditions, however, is the establishing of monuments in memory of departed loved ones.

We have a complete line of monuments and will gladly assist in your selection.

Mokena

In order to create a good working organization to properly handle the many boys of Mokena who want to be members of the Little League and Pony League baseball next summer, the Mokena Baseball association is asking all parents of boys, eligible to join the leagues, to meet in the Carpenter Street public school, Thursday, Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. Other years, the work of organizing such leagues, first begin at the close of school in June, and as it is a big job to handle the many boys in this age bracket who want to play ball much valuable time is lost, thus creating much inefficiency. By starting now, the members believe all planning can be completed, so by the time baseball time is here, an operating schedule is also ready. In order to do this, it is most vital that all parents of eligible boys should attend this meeting. The date is Nov. 13 at 7:30.

Joliet Bishop Gives Background Sketch of New Pope

(Editor's note: Upon the election of Cardinal Roncalli to the supreme office of the Church Bishop M. D. McNamara issued a statement from the Joliet chancery office sketching the background of the new pontiff. The bishop's statement follows.)

After long and prayerful deliberation, the Cardinals have chosen the 261st successor to St. Peter, as the Vicar of Christ.

We have all prayed that Divine Providence would guide them in this historic choice. Surely God has answered this prayer, which is for the benefit not only of the Church but of all who were praying for world peace. The new Pope, John XXIII has tremendous responsibilities and I am sure that we will all pray for him.

Climaxing a life of service to the Church as a professor and a member of the Vatican missionary and diplomatic corps, His Eminence Angelo Cardinal Roncalli was created a Cardinal of the Church on Jan. 12, 1953, and three days later was named Patriarch of Venice.

Even after his elevation to the See of Venice, Cardinal Roncalli continued to represent the papacy. His presence as Papal Legate highlighted the Marian Year congress held in Beirut, Lebanon, in October, 1954, when he consecrated Lebanon to Our Lady.

Pope John XXIII was born Nov. 25, 1881, at Sottoil Monte in the Diocese of Bergamo. At the age of 11 he began his studies at the Episcopal Seminary at Bergamo. In 1900, he began his theological studies at the Cerasola College in Rome where he received a laureate in theology in 1904. He was ordained August 10, 1904, in the Church of Santa Maria in Monte Santo.

From 1905 until 1914, he was private secretary to Bishop Radini-Tedeschi of Bergamo. In addition he was professor of church history, apologetics, and later patrology at his alma mater, the Bergamo seminary.

During World War I he was first a sergeant with the Medical Corps of the Italian army and after a year he became chaplain at military hospitals. In addition he helped to provide spiritual comforts to the Civil Defense Corps.

After the war he organized St.

the first "Student's House" in Italy at Bergamo. This institution provided free assistance to the children of the middle class attending public schools.

He also was instrumental in the establishment of the first school of religion at the Bergamo Teacher's College, of the cultural conferences in the University of Bergamo, and of the foundation of the first circle of young women in the city and diocese.

In 1920, he gave a main address at the Eucharistic Congress at Bergamo, speaking on "The Eucharist and the Madonna".

The following year he was named president of the Italian Society for Propagation of the Faith. He centralized the regional centers of the society. A new constitution of the national council of the society was another of his accomplishments while there. During this time he did considerable traveling, visiting important centers of the society in Italy, France, Belgium, and Holland.

He was named Apostolic Visitor to Bulgaria in 1925. On March 19 of that year he was consecrated Archbishop of Areopolis. He continued as Apostolic Visitor to Bulgaria until 1930 when he was named Apostolic Delegate to that country.

In 1935 Archbishop Roncalli was transferred to the Titular Archbishopric of Mesembria and was named Apostolic Delegate to Turkey and Greece. He was also appointed Apostolic Administrator of the Latin Vicariate Apostolic of Constantinople. He remained there during the years of World War II.

Near the end of World War II, in December 1944, Archbishop Roncalli was named Apostolic Nuncio to France. During the immediate postwar years, Archbishop Roncalli's abilities as a diplomat won him the respect of the most diverse political parties and the nation as a whole. After he was named a cardinal, he received his red biretta from French President Vincent Auriol, continuing a tradition of four centuries.

His writings include two historical studies about the Bergamo Seminary—one on its establishment and the second on the Apostolic Visitation by St. Charles Borromeo. He has also written monographs on Cesare Cardinal Baronio and Bishop Radini-Tedeschi.

In 1956 Cardinal Roncalli issued a pastoral letter warning the clergy and faithful of the Venice patriarchate against the so-called "opening to the left", a term used to describe closer collaboration between Catholic-oriented political parties and communist and allied parties.

He criticized as erroneous the attitude of Catholics who, in the political field, desire complete freedom from episcopal authority, saying:

"With regard to Catholics this constitutes a serious mistake and a flagrant violation of Catholic discipline. The mistake is that of practically sharing the Marxist ideology which is the negation of Christianity. The violation of discipline lies in openly disobeying the living Church."

A year later when the Italian Socialist party held its convention in Venice, the Cardinal urged Catholics to give delegates a friendly reception but warned anti-clerical socialists that "a modern economic and social system cannot be solidly built on a foundation which is not that of Christ."

On Easter, 1957, he issued a pastoral repeating his warning against cooperation with the leftist parties.

Later in the year he was awarded the Grand Cross of Merit by the German government for his activities on behalf of German prisoners of war while he was Apostolic Nuncio to France.

Cardinal Roncalli was a member of the Sacred Congregation for the Oriental Church, the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith and the Congregation of Religious.

The Holy See and the Vatican. In popular usage the terms Holy See and Vatican City are often used interchangeably. Legally, however, the Holy See and the Vatican are distinct.

The Pope, together with the various congregations that form the Catholic Church's governing organ, comprise the Holy See. As such, the Holy See does not constitute a state in the political and territorial sense of the word. The function of the Holy See is religious, to expedite the work of the Church.

To assure to the Holy See full liberty and independence in the exercise of its mission the State of Vatican City was set up in 1929 by the Lateran Treaty with Italy. At that time the Pope was accorded and accepted full temporal sovereignty as an independent civil power. He reigns as head of his own territorial state of 110 acres, about the size of Central Park in New York. The arrangement guarantees the Pope's independence of any civil power.

The Holy See exercises sovereignty over Vatican State. The Pope, as the head of the Holy See, is thus the head of Vatican State.

In a sense the Pope exercises dual sovereignty. As the head of a religious organization he is a spiritual sovereign; as a ruler of Vatican State he is a temporal sovereign.

There have been recent contentions in the United States that American cardinals who vote in a papal election should lose their citizenship. Such cardinals, the argument runs, are voting in a foreign political election in violation of U. S. law.

Those who hold such views apparently fail to understand the distinction between the Holy See, which is a religious entity, and the Vatican State, which is a political entity. In a papal election American cardinals cast votes for the religious head of the Roman Catholic Church. That the Pope automatically becomes the ruler of a territorial estate is incidental to the primary purpose of the election, which is religious.

It was exactly on this basis that American cardinals participated in papal elections between 1878 and 1922, when the Pope was "a prisoner in the Vatican". In those years the Popes, not recognizing the 1871 Italian law of papal guarantees after the seizure of the papal states, were in a position of having only spiritual jurisdiction.

It was for the election of a spiritual leader, not a mythical "foreign potentate," that Cardinals Spellman and McIntyre participated in the recent conclave. The fact that the new Pope will run a papal state which would fit into one small corner of the Texas King Ranch, should leave no reasonable American up a tree.

Titles given to the Pope—the head of the Roman Catholic Church—are numerous. They include: Bishop of Rome, Vicar of Jesus Christ, Successor of the Prince of the Apostles, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Roman Province, and Sovereign of the State of Vatican City.

"Pope" derives from the Latin "pater" and the Greek "pappas," which means "father". To the world's half-billion Catholics, the Pope is the "Holy Father."

He is also commonly called "Pontiff." This word means literally a "bridge-builder." It comes from the pagan priesthood of ancient Rome when the high priests had charge of building bridges across the Tiber.

In official documents the Pope signs himself "Servant of the Servants of God."

From Peter to John, St. Peter established himself at Rome. There sometime between 64 and 67 he was crucified by the Emperor Nero. Peter thought himself unworthy to die the same way as Christ, and asked to be hung upside down.

All of Peter's successors to St. Sylvester I, the 33rd Pontiff who began his reign in 314, were martyrs for their faith. All of the Popes in the first five centuries, with two exceptions, are recognized as saints of the Church. These early Popes account for 52 of the 77 Popes venerated as saints. The most recent is St. Pius X (1903-1914) who was canonized in 1954, by Pius XII.

There has been an unbroken succession of Popes since St. Peter, but the exact number is uncertain. The Vatican annual lists 261, including Pius XII. Other sources place the number between 259 and 262. In a 1900 year period it is not surprising that difficulties have arisen. Old documents have been lost through invasion, fire and other hazards.

One Pope died two days after his election in 752; he was Stephen II.

The majority of Popes—182—have been Italian. Of these 105 including Pius XII, were

Laguna Woods

Association Installs Light at Area Entrance

By MRS. ROBERT ANDERSON Fieldbrook 9-2857

The Homeowners association of Laguna Woods have installed a light at the entrance to the area. The gentlemen who donated their time to the installation of the light were: William Donohue, William Murphy, William Garvin, Al Karre and William Snedden.

In case some of you haven't learned the identity of the Mystery Man last Hallowe'en night he was Mrs. Al Karre. She gets our vote for the most unusual costume seen that night.

William Snedden and Robert Anderson, avid duck hunters, left home at 4 a.m. Wednesday for a day's outing at Rice Lake.

The Hallowe'en party at the Orland Park school held last Friday afternoon had many unusual and beautiful costumes. The first grade prize went to Julie Karre who was Cinderella at the ball. To mention all of the lovely costumes would be impossible, however the 8th grade costume worn by Donna Brookins was unique. She was the Univac machine and wore a box that covered her from head to foot with decorations resembling the machine. Classmates would slip questions thru a slot in the box and she would quickly write out the answer and slip it out thru the answer slot. Richard Benson, a seventh grade student, was dressed as a Doughboy from World War I complete with the leggings and rifle. The 7th grade prize winning costume was worn by Billy Higgins who was Aunt Jemima. John Snyder of Orland Hills was runnerup in a detective costume. Its too bad all of the costumes can't be mentioned for they were all very good and involved a lot of work.

After the judging of the costumes the children in the lower grades returned to their respective classrooms for their parties while the 6th, 7th and 8th grade students danced in the gymnasium. The dancing over, the young people were served, buffet style, donuts, candy and pop in the school lunchroom.

Protecting Young Criminals

In Chicago last week a Lutheran pastor spoke out against shielding young delinquents from the consequences of their acts. He is the Rev. Allen R. Blegen, radio spokesman of the Lutheran Broadcasting association. His remarks concerning juveniles who flout the law were short and to the point.

From our corner we wish to say amen but the do-gooders and rainbow chasers, who are forever going their gushing ways in deep concern over what they think of as the trials and tribulations of the younger generation, aren't going to like it.

The Rev. Mr. Blegen quite bluntly states that in his opinion there is too much coddling of young and budding criminals. Attempts to guide them into proper paths by erecting a wall of protection about them is not working out, he says.

"Names of juvenile delinquents and the names of their parents should be made public," he advocates, contending that this would have a tremendous deterrent effect.

"Few youngsters," says the Rev. Mr. Blegen, "want to be shown up as 'bad' if it means being held up to public shame. Newspapers therefore should not be hindered in their efforts and attempts to report the facts of juvenile crime."

There are a few states where the starry-eyed pack have succeeded in getting laws passed that actually prohibit using the names of any young criminals in any media carrying public information. The bleeding-hearts have been trying for years to get similar legislation passed in Illinois but so far, thank heaven, the legislators have turned a deaf ear to their importunities.

There is no law in Illinois which prohibits using the names of anyone taken into custody in connection with a crime, whether he or she is six or 106 years old. There are police, sheriffs, deputies and juvenile officers and other court officials who withhold from newspapers the names of criminals under 17 years of age. This is especially true in Cook county but the idea is not restricted to that area. The better-worlders have conned numerous law enforcing agencies that the only way to handle juvenile delinquents is to protect and coddle them.

They have talked so long and loud about proper safeguards for the young criminal that the kids know the whole book. You should be at a police station sometime when a group of youngsters are being questioned. They know all their rights, they know all the answers and usually wind up their lectures to the cops by daring them to try and do something to them.

These young hoodlums laugh at the police. "Take me to court, they invite," and watch the judge turn me loose."

And you want to know something? The kids are right—more than 90 per cent of the time.

When a criminal, young or old, can hide behind anonymity he has it made. As long as his misdeeds are kept secret he can continue to enjoy the confidence and respect of his fellows.

We agree with the Rev. Mr. Blegen that "we are too soft with today's criminal young people."

We also favor his recommendation that legislation be passed to make parents financially responsible for damage caused by their minor offspring. As the law stands now parents cannot be held legally responsible for injury inflicted by their children to person or property, unless it can be proved that the parents had knowledge of the act to be performed and approved or acquiesced in it. The only real obligation on a parent now is a moral one.

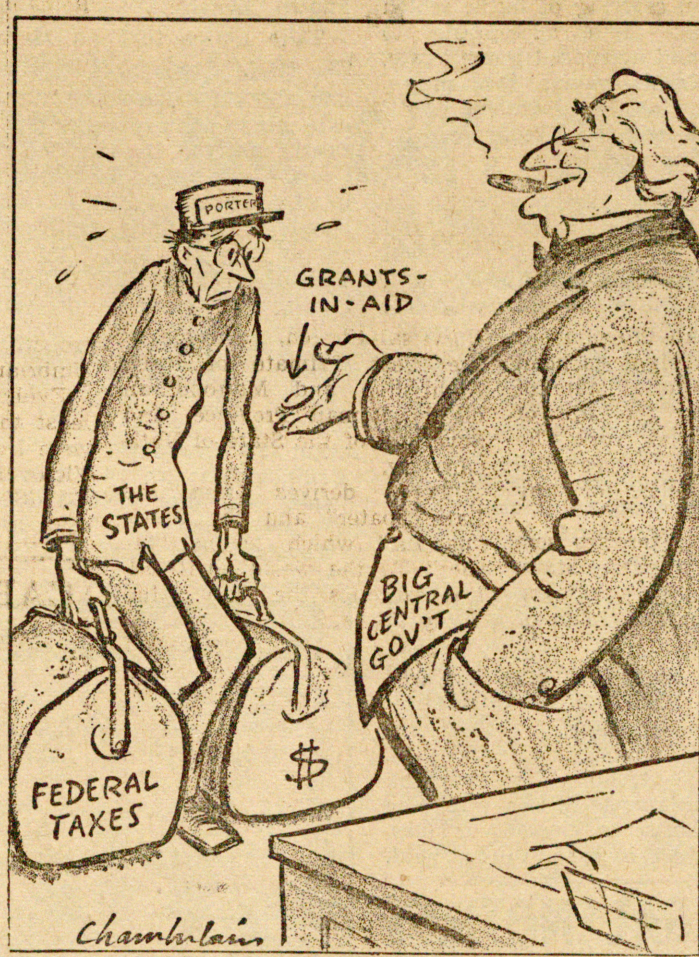

The Rev. Mr. Blegen believes that if parents knew they would be compelled to pay for damages brought about thru the acts of their offspring they would keep a tighter rein on them.

As for teens who complain that life is dull and demand that something be done to change it, the pastor has this to say:

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your community does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something—the best of yourself, your time, and talents."

And from our corner we should like to intone another amen.

"THANKS BUD, HERE'S A TIP"

MORE ON PLANNING

To the Editor:

In reply to the article by a Mokena Citizen I appreciate the attempt he made to answer just one of the questions raised in the previous weeks article on planning. The Mokena Citizen tried to establish the fact that planning must take place by a local group before Chicago does our planning. Planning by a Chicago Commission would be considered an outside interest according to the Mokena Citizen and therefore maybe not beneficial to our area. This substantiates my idea that hiring an outside firm to do our planning does not necessarily fulfill the interests of all the people. This conclusion can be drawn from the fact that it is the planners idea to have sixty percent residential, twenty percent business and twenty percent industrial without consulting the people to be concerned. Whether it be a Chicago group or anyone else the people concerned, the town and adjoining area, could not have been any more effectively ignored.

We all agree that planning is needed to avoid chaos, but how can anyone plan for an area unless they know what the people want or will put up with? The Mokena Citizen places the article in Better Homes and Gardens as a source for much of his information, but he did not mention that it was suggested in the same article the best way to accomplish the task of forming a successful plan for the future was to have meetings in which the people concerned could discuss the issues involved.

I would be very interested in knowing what the people in the area really want in the plan for the future? We have been told by the Master Planners that no community can exist in the future as they have in the past unless they have a large percentage of industry. To date no one has presented any facts or figures, just a lot of wishful thinking and hypothetical cases. Just how many factories will be necessary to reduce the taxes any appreciable amount, and how many people will these factories employ? What affect

GLENN F. LOGAN

The English language, like the population, is a thing of growth and change. New words are being added and meanings and new uses are given to the old ones. Words and idioms once in common use have been discarded altho some cling on in certain areas.

Of course, there are words and phrases peculiar to certain localities that have lasted thru the centuries and probably will remain in use for as long as people remain there

An example of this is found in the southern hill country—the Ozarks, the mountains of Kentucky, Tennessee and the Carolinas. Descendants of people of Elizabethan times and having kept themselves more or less isolated since the time the first settlers came to those regions, they still use many words and expressions that would have fallen naturally on Shakespeare's ear.

To our present ears, however, some words are complete strangers and phrases in common use in the hills sound stilted, as if spoken from the stage of an historical drama.

It does give one a bit of a start at first to hear some overall clad man, topped with a slouch hat and with a heavy stubble of tobacco-stained whiskers apparently wax poetic.

"Hark to the hounds," he may say, signalling silence with a finger, "when they come round yon hill."

He is not being poetic, he is not talking stilted. He is just speaking the English that he was reared on.

And speaking of Shakespeare there are many words and phrases in his plays and sonnets that have an entirely different meaning today. The scholar can translate into modern English as he reads but most of us are helpless without a glossary. And if anyone has to refer constantly to notes to understand what he is reading all the joy goes out of it.

Our vocabularies today are being enriched daily by scientific terms that have successfully negotiated the journey from the laboratory to the living room.

Atoms and space have given birth to some fearful sounding, polysyllabic, jaw breaking words that find usage in most walks of life.

They may be mispronounced but they are being used.

It would seem now that if enough persons use a word, in a certain way—regardless of meaning or rules of grammar, usage prevails. If the usage school gets completely in control we should have some weird effects in our spoken and written expressions.

It is to be hoped that the deese, dose and dem contingent will not gain control over the way youse may speak

In these circles, the conjugation of the verb "throw", the publications, slick paper as well as newsprint, it would appear that the time is not far off when all nouns will also serve as verbs.

It was not too long ago, just a year or so, that host practically quit being a noun and became a verb. Probably some lazy moron just couldn't spare the effort to say or write, So-and-so was host, were host, will be hosts or whatever the case may have been and instead said So-and-so hosted the Jolly Bachelors or whatever the group was.

Hosting such a group no doubt calls for considerable hoisting of glasses and a host hoisting while hosting must watch his step, otherwise he may drunked.

It is a bit confusing at times, however. Just the other day someone in the back shop spoke of being Etnaed and we didn't—excuse me, I meant to say din't—know whether he was volcanoed or insured.

Any day now we expect to existent farm advice

Fall is the time of year to give special attention to your evergreens. In particular, they should be watered heavily. The soil around the roots of the plant should be soaked to a depth of a foot or more every ten days up until the time the ground freezes. This will prevent a browning of the needles, known as winter burn.

All farmers who had an acreage allotment in 1958 are eligible to vote in the Corn Referendum Nov. 25. The polling place will be announced. There will be two proposals on the ballot. Proposal one will favor discontinuance of corn acreage allotments. Under this program there will be no allotments, no commercial corn area, and the level of price support will be 90% of the average price received by farmers for their corn for the three preceding years. The average will be adjusted if abnormal quantities of low grade corn were marketed in any one year. The price of corn will not, however, fall below 65% of parity. Proposal two is continuance of corn acreage allotments and support for corn produced on farms within the allotment for that farm, at a price which would fluctuate between 75 and 90% of parity.

It is important that farmers take advantage of the opportunity to vote for the proposal of their choice. This is a democratic process and enables farmers to choose the corn program which best suits their needs for the coming year.

Aluminum foil, one of the homemakers' best friends, has found a new use. When wrapped around trunks of young trees, it gives excellent protection against mouse and rabbit damage. It has a number of advantages, being easy to put on, it reflects heat, and is not too expensive. You should use the heavy freezer type foil for wrapping trees.

Achievements of all county 4-H members during the past year will be recognized at the annual achievement night to be held Nov. 11 at the village hall in Homewood. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. Jean Siemsen, Tinley Park, chairman and the recreation committee, will have some interesting things planned for you as you arrive at the program. 4-H'ers who have done outstanding work will be given medals, certificates and ribbons to show excellence in project work for each activity or service to club and community. 4-H leaders who have served for varying numbers of years will be recognized for their contribution to the 4-H club program. An outstanding 4-H alumnus will be honored. All this will be followed by recreation for everyone. A program booklet listing all the awards will be available for those who attend.

There are several commercial rabbit repellent preparations which are quite effective in keeping rabbits away from shrubs and other valuable plants. There is also a leaflet entitled "Controlling Rabbits" available from the Fish and Wildlife Service, 327 Federal Building, Peoria.

"When you play the horses" and lose, it is money down the drain. When you "play the picker" and lose, you may lose not only money, but a finger, hand or arm. The smart farmer won't put up something as valuable as a hand or arm to gain a minute or two. Stop the picker to clean it out and keep safety shields in place.

Intermittent freezing and thawing in winter will damage strawberry plants unless they are properly mulched. Use clean straw, free of weeds if possible. Put it on after several heavy frosts have occurred but before the temperature drops below 20 degrees. This will help protect the crowns of the plants from injury.

The Bremen Beat

By EDWIN BRUELL

Three new cast members were recently announced by George Sully, director of "Cheaper by the Dozen," three-act comedy to be presented at Bremen Community high school tomorrow night, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m.

Fred Heft will play the part of the Doctor, with Tom Blount as Bill Gilbreth and Jim Kornid as Joe Scales.

Gordon Flaws will understudy as Dad Gilbreth, and Fred Heft will act as understudy in the role of Frank Gilbreth.

Rehearsals are underway, and committees will be announced soon.

FUTURE TEACHERS

The Future Teachers of America charter at Bremen community high school recently attended a conference at Lincoln-Way high school, New Lenox, at which Frank O'Neal, director of teacher recruitment in the office of the superintendent of public instruction, was the principal speaker.

A series of meetings is under way at Bremen in which teachers in various subject areas speak to the 40 members of the organization about their future in teaching.

The group will hold a pow-wow dance Friday, Feb. 13, after the Reavis basketball game at Bremen.

Members will usher at the area teachers' institute at Bremen Monday, March 16. They were recent guests at the fall teachers' conclave at Blue Island Community high school.

Officers are Gary Burkle, president; Karen Digman, secretary; Sharon Jockum, treasurer and chairman of the finance committee; and Nadine Doerr, chairman of the activities committee.

A new vice-president, will soon be elected to fill the position vacated by Burkle, who

Frost Time Also Time of Danger From Wood Fires

When the frost is on the pumpkins is the time to be wary of fire in the farm woodland.

value, scarring of butts, which makes them susceptible to rot, and decreased growth rate.

Small, young trees may be totally destroyed by fire and their replacement value lost.

Another loss can come in the destruction of food and cover for wildlife. And the soil erosion control influence of a woodland stand is usually lost for a time.

Be careful of fire in the woodland yourself. If a fire starts, corral it as soon as possible and put it out. Get the help of local fire wardens or neighbors if you need it, Culver suggests.

In 1957, 465 woodland fires occurred on protected land in Illinois. More than 75 percent of these fires started in burning debris. Other causes included smoking, 7 percent; incendiary, 3 percent; railroad, 4 percent; and lumbering and miscellaneous causes, fire, like accidents, is caused; it does not just happen, Culver said.

Corn elevators have taken the back ache out of cribbing corn. But at least half a dozen Illinois farmers are injured in elevator accidents each year, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Two of the most dangerous points, says Hogsett, are the tumbling rods from the jack to the elevator and from the elevator to the hoist. Without a shield, they're ready to grab loose clothing or gloves. Once they take hold, they don't let loose.

Because there are many gears, sprockets and chains that can't be shielded, it's wise to keep children away from the elevator. And, for your own safety, wear close fitting clothes that won't catch on moving parts.

Hogsett also adds this word of caution: When moving an elevator, watch that it doesn't touch overhead electric wires.

On the basis of hours of annual use, the portable farm elevator is one of the most dangerous of major farm machines.

The Rev. Robert L. Plastow of the Methodist church, who was recently elected chaplain for the American Legion, department of Illinois, will attend a two day meeting of all chaplains for the 48 states, Nov. 20 and 21 at the national headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind.

The Atmosphere --

You Just Can't Do Without It!

By ROBERT MANN
(Conservation Editor)
(Cook Co. Forest Presv.)

Until after the time of Christopher Columbus, most people believed that this world was flat, like a table top. Some of the ancient Greeks, however, had reasoned that the earth was round and that the canopy of air above them was part of another sphere surrounding this planet. They used two words to describe it—atmos (vapor) and sphaira (sphere). We know now that they were right. There is a gaseous envelope which, held by gravity, clings to the earth and follows its every movement. We commonly call it "the air."

The air we breathe is the commonest thing on earth and, altho free, the most precious. There is an old proverb: "A man can live three weeks without food, three days without water, but only three minutes without air." None of us, nor any of the animals and plants, could exist without our atmosphere. It furnishes us with those elements necessary for all life: oxygen, nitrogen, carbon dioxide and water vapor. It filters and protects us from the killing rays of the sun. We live beneath the roof of a gigantic greenhouse.

Without our atmosphere there would be no winds, no clouds, no rain, no colorful sunrises and sunsets—in other words, no weather at all and consequently no climate. In daytime, as on the moon, the sky would be black—not blue—and the temperature would zoom to 230 degrees F. or more. At night it would plunge to possibly 300 degrees below zero. This would be a lifeless world.

Near the earth's surface, perfectly dry air contains about 78% nitrogen, 21% oxygen, and one percent of argon—a peculiar inactive gas, small amounts of carbon dioxide and hydrogen, and tiny amounts of five rare gases: neon, krypton, helium, ozone and xenon. Normally, however, air also contains water vapor in quantities varying from a mere trace to about 5 percent on hot humid days, and it is responsible for the clouds, fogs, rain, snow, hail, dew and frost. At altitudes of more than 5 miles there is very little of it because of the low temperatures. In addition, our air contains various amounts of impurities such as dust, soot, pollen, spores, bacteria, salt particles from sea spray and—especially near industrial areas—poisonous gases.

The density of the atmosphere diminishes rapidly with altitude. Six miles up it is so thin that a man cannot breathe; at 12 miles there is not enough oxygen to keep a candle burning; at 400 miles, in the almost airless Mesosphere, the main ingredients are probably hydrogen and helium, the two lightest gases.

Data obtained from radio waves, balloons and missiles indicate that, for convenience, the atmosphere may be divided into five layers of concentric spheres around the earth. They are chiefly distinguished by the temperatures in them but each merges gradually into the one above it. The lowest layer, roughly 7 miles high, is the troposphere where most of our weather is generated and which contains the air we breathe.

Above that is the stratosphere, extending to an altitude of about 20 miles, and then the chemosphere where the sun's ultraviolet rays are screened from the earth by the ozone gas they produce. The space between altitudes of 50 and 250 is called the ionosphere. Above it, and extending to possibly 600 miles above the earth, is the mesosphere. Beyond that is the exosphere merging into outer space where someday, like Columbus, men may explore.

Car To Kill First Pedestrian Was Speeding 4 m.p.h.

The first recorded pedestrian death involving an automobile took place in London, according to the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents.

An Irish woman, Mrs. Bridget Driscoll, 44, of Croydon, was knocked down and killed near the Crystal Palace on Aug. 7, 1896.

At the inquest which followed, one witness testified: "The car came along at a tremendous, reckless pace—in fact, like a fire engine, or as fast as a good horse can gal-

CHEMISTS TO MEET

The driver of the death car said he was proceeding at about four miles an hour, and the greatest speed his car would attain was eight miles per hour. He added that he first saw Mrs. Driscoll when she was 10 yards in front of him. He rang his bell and shouted, but all in vain.

Chemists of the Joliet Section of the American Chemical Society will meet for a dinner and a lecture Nov. 13, at Maple Manor, Kankakee. The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and the lecture for 8:00 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling Harry Clemens at Joliet 2-6601, Ex. 214.
